

Albany State University

Presents

Black History Month

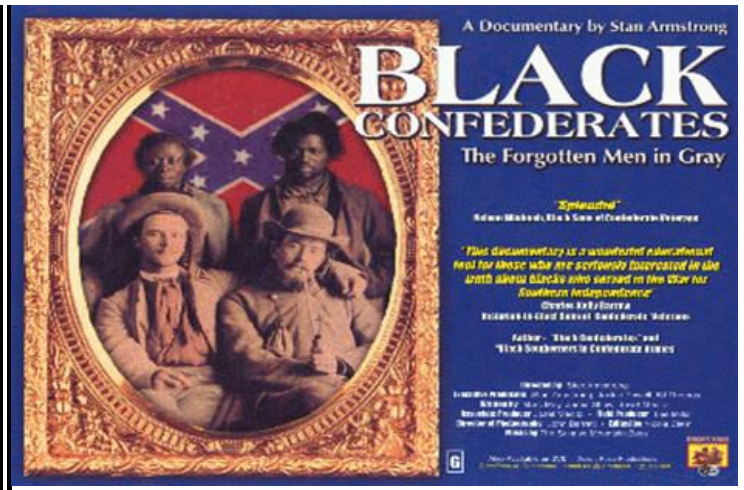

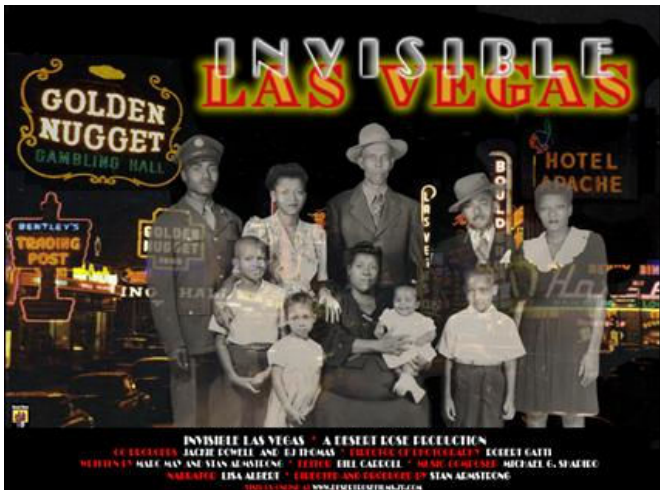

Guest Speaker

Dr. Stan Armstrong, Filmmaker

Thursday, February 9, 2006

ACAD Auditorium

7:00 p.m.

African-American director/ producer of Desert Rose Productions, Stan Armstrong, is a graduate of UNLV where he received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Communications and a minor in History and Film. Armstrong a Las Vegas local has guest lectured throughout the U.S. about minorities who served during the Civil War and showcasing his first film, The Forgotten Battle of Fort Pillow, which has aired locally on PBS he is also a part of the Humanities on the Road Program. Armstrong has tailored his lectures to accommodate all ages K- College and has been well received by all. Currently he is lecturing throughout the Clark County School system and teaching classes at both The University of Nevada Las Vegas and is an adjunct instructor at the Community College. Classes feature discussions of the Civil War as well as films that incorporate historic events as part of their genre.

For More Information

Contact

Pat Owens, Coordinator

First & Second Year Experience Program

229-430-2811

patricia.owens@surams.edu